Hey, hey, hey, hey, hey, hey, hey, hey baby
I'm just sittin' at the stoplight, Thinkin' bout which way to go, go, go I shoulda made my mind up 165 days before, for, for But you know my stubborn ways, kept tellin' me to stay
And your love is blindin' me, and I couldn't get away
I tried to make you happy, but you made me so blue
The light is turning green, so you know what I'ma do

(she said) How could you leave me, how could you leave me? (how could you leave me?)
I said I had to, it's going crazy (and I'm outta my mind)
She ain't believe me, she ain't believe me (she ain't believe me, ohh)
that's the day that, that's the day that, I left my baby, I left my baby

I don't want to, but I gotta go
Cause your lovin' got me feeling like I'm stuck in rush hour traffic, and it doesn't seem that long ago
That I always thought that you would be the one
That I could cruise and laugh with Be damned if I'ma stay, gotta get away, cause you know
I'm tired of feelin' this way
And I know it's gonna hurt so bad, so the very next time
I'll proceed with caution

I shoulda seen it coming, shoulda seen it coming
But I fell for it, that makes me the dummy Now I'm stuck in traffic, thinkin' bout the way you're actin'
But you're probably slippin, So I guess I'll let it happen Sittin' at a green light, lookin' out the window
What you do to me will come back to your temple
I tried to make you happy, but you made me so blue
The light is still green, so I guess I that should move
(she said) How could you leave me, how could you
leave me? (how could you leave me?)
I said I had to, it's going crazy (and I'm outta my mind)
She ain't believe me, she ain't believe me (she ain't
believe me, ohh)

I don't want to, but I gotta go
Cause your lovin' got me feeling like I'm stuck
in rush hour traffic, and it doesn't seem that long ago
That I always thought that you would be the one
That I could cruise and laugh with
Be damned if I'ma stay, gotta get away, cause you
know
I'm tired of feelin' this way
And I know it's gonna hurt so bad, so the very next time
I'll proceed with caution
