This is the faith.
This is the faith complex.
Where all it takes is another step,
So we can then step again.

It's not all about the numbers.
It is not all about the numbers.

This is the faith.
This is the faith complex.
Try not to write another disappointing letter to integrity.

Only go faster, when you've stopped and thought.
Only go slower, when you've learned of wisdom.

Everything is a question of good will.
But we're too busy delivering answers of arrogance.

Isn't it funny how one's compassion diminishes when his or her own perils
Rise?
Perils rise.
Perils rise.

It's not all about the numbers
It is not all about the numbers

What should we ask for?
Who should we look to?
If all we know is burning bridges
Don't speak to me like I'm a stranger.
Turn your thoughts to the roots,
As we've all been caught up in the branches.
With roots above and branches below.

Don't run if you don't know your walk.
This is the faith complex.
Don't run if you don't know your walk.
This is the faith complex.
This is a memoir to friends persisting.
This is the faith complex.
