Yeah, another soul on soul production

Yeah, I stay soaked in foreign colognes
I keep that Gucci sweaters, hand knit 'cuz that's that blush shit
I stay in lace because my body Versace taste
Rolex on my cuff flooded with diamonds and stuff
A half a dozen hundred Benz, cool in my driveway
Tried to have it my way the fly way
Lets that you were baby
I should of kept it real when I was with you
Instead I dissed you
So now I miss, true

It's been too long
Since you've been gone
Feels good when I'm with you
I miss you, come back home
I need your smile
Ain't seen you in a while
I'm so alone I miss you
Come back home

It's been two sleepless nights three lonely days
Since I last saw you, now things just ain't the same
Whatever happened to the promise that we made
You'll never leave me, I'll never leave you
Now you're gone

It's been too long
Since you've been gone
Feels good when I'm with you
I miss you, come back home
I need your smile
Ain't seen you in a while
I'm so alone I miss you
Come back home, home

I've got so many things to say
Can we talk about it, I want to talk about it
But lets not talk about who's right or who's wrong
I want to move on so we can start all over again

'Cuz I much rather be with you, then without you

I love you, baby I need you
So sugar come back home
I'm so all alone
I need someone that I can talk to
I miss you

It's been too long
Since you've been gone
Feels good when I'm with you
I miss you come back home
I need your smile
I'm so alone I miss you

Hey yo, it's the chocolate mac
The slim kid with gold front
Eyes red from blunt been on tour for months
They dipped, they crushed women
Play it from the beginning
Creaming women and I be sinnin'
That's how I'm livin'
Ladies in all complexions, connections, in ghetto sections
But you'll be that exception the one I cared about
Wanna know about your whereabouts
And then I dissed you
So now I miss , true

So sugar come back home
I'm so all alone
I need someone that I can talk to
I miss you

It's been too long
Feels good when I'm with you
I miss you, come back home
I need your smile
I'm so alone I miss you

It's been too long
