I gave you my heart in the hopes that you might give me yours

But now I'm at the point of losing you Your laugh and your smile made me feel everything was secure

And that no one could love me like you do

You should have told me it wasn't forever
Your eyes tell me things that your heart cannot say You should have told me that you were not ready to love
me

Oh I love you

I gave you my trust, thinking no one could love me so much

And I hate to think that it could never end The warmth of your touch cast upon me a feeling I know

Two people share when they are more than friends

You should have told me it wasn't forever
Your eyes tell me things that your heart cannot say
love
me

Is it my loving you that makes you be this way?
I feel like such a fool, you've brought me so much pain You should have told me something, not lead me to believe

That we'd be together forever and ever

You should have told me it wasn't forever
Your eyes tell me things that your heart cannot say
You should have told me that you were not ready to
love
me

You should have told me it wasn't forever
Your eyes tell me things that your heart cannot say
You should have told me that you were not ready to
love
me

You should have told me, tell me, tell me
You should have told me
