

Donald Jenkins & The Delighters "Elephant Walk"

Visit "Elephant Walk" on MotoLyrics.com

BONG

(Spoken)

When your stomach speaks, you forget your mind
When your mind speaks your forget your heart
But when your heart speaks you forget everything

Oh the night was splendid and serene
Yes, when a native girl
Wiggled right in to my dreams
She did a little dance
It seemed so opulent
Ummm and I lost my heart in darkest Africa
She did a dance, it brought romance
The Elephant Walk

And whoa, whoa those swayin hips
They put me in a trance
Ummm and all at once I begin to dance
The feeling, ahe, ahe is Paradise I know
For am American boy from the south side of Chicargo

Elephant Walk
(jungle sounds)
Lord, lord, lordy, lord, lord
Crazy memories, lord, lord, lordy, lord
If they knew what I knew
There wouldn't be no wars
There'd only be time
For a little girl and boy
Crazy melodies
always hunting me
Crazy melodies always hunting me

FADE

James J. Pastirak
jamesp59@aol.com

Visit Donald Jenkins & The Delighters page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.