When i say enough, you begin to be ready when i close my eyes, you stay up all night when i want to talk, you pretend you dont listen and thats the reason why, we can start the endless fight.

Now we know at last, now we know whats right or wrong now we know at last, theres no point to carry on now we know at last, now we know we dont have to try now we know at last, its time to say goodbye.

I always leave the past where It should be you remember every day, and hour, year i can pack and go spend the cash in the minute you will never take a step without a plan

It wasnt so bad tell me that you will remember the good things not everyone gets what we had no tears oe regret we are livin

Now we know at last, now we know whats right or wrong
now we know at last, now we know we dont have to try

now we know at last, now we know we dont have to try

now we know at last, now we know we dont have to try
