Hey honey, you know you're too young to break your heart over one guy
You've got your whole life ahead of you, so why not forget him

And say you'll meet me down on the beach tonight
Where you and I can dance til break of day
Underneath the stars, to soft guitars
There's gonna be an all night party, babe

Say you'll be there down on the beach tonight
Where you and I can dance your tears away
Barefoot in the sand, hand in hand
We're gonna have an all night party

Little girl, you know he won't call up again
He's out there on the town with your best friend Don't wait all night by the window, you know it had to end
You might as well come down and have a good time

Say you'll meet me down on the beach tonight
Where you and I can dance til break of day
Underneath the stars, to soft guitars
There's gonna be an all night party, babe

And say you'll be there down on the beach tonight
Where you and I can dance your tears away
Barefoot in the sand, hand in hand
We're gonna have an all night party

Little girl, he'll always be the cheating kind
I knew that he would soon step out of line
So don't cry all night on your pillow cos he ain't worth the time
You might as well come down and join the party

Say you'll meet me down on the beach tonight
Where you and I can dance til break of day
Underneath the stars, to soft guitars
There's gonna be an all night party, babe

Say you'll be there down on the beach tonight
Where you and I can dance your tears away
Barefoot in the sand, hand in hand
We're gonna have an all night party

And say you'll meet me down on the beach tonight
Where you and I can dance til break of day
Underneath the stars, to soft guitars
There's gonna be an all night party
