If you could only keep me alive
I swear that somehow we could find this way to change my life
and help me sing this song.
Because the rain it hit this town and washed away half of my faith
But now I'm ready to feel what I've been feeling.
And then the sun it hit my face and made me think of all the things made me pray
Like when I stood up all this cocaine
Hit my heart
Then all the sudden I'm in love
Oh God its almost summer

I hope addiction took my heart
Because I'm looking for a hook That could just hold me back from Tearing out these speakers
It's not the sound that drowns me out
But all this doubt that broke me down
You were my friend
But now Im taking you to Hell.

If you could hold me hand
You could feel what I've been feeling

I wrote this song for you
It's not the reasons that I left
It's just the ones that kept me hanging onto you
So hold me down to writing letters
Like the song said
I'm so much better
When I'm gone you could take your time
Because I'm living off this antidote
