Come on in,
You sure look good to me,
Come on in,
I've learned how lonely I can be.
I guess we'll never know just what went wrong,
You know it's been a whole year, has passed us, by and gone,
But, we're back together now, where we belong,
So, baby, come on in.
Come on in,
I heard your footstep on the stair,
Come on in,
I'd know it anywhere.
Your old chair in the corner is just a', a'sitting there waiting,
It's been a long time anticipating,
What a long time it's been,

So, baby, come on in.
Over and over, I told myself,
I said, "Son, you've got to lose these blues,"
"Get ready for the day when she'll walk in the door,"
So, I dusted off your housecoat and I polished up your shoes.
Come on in,
You know you're welcome here,
Aww, come on in,
It's been a long, long year.
Now I know why I waited around,
I wouldn't run around town, let them put me down,
I knew if I waited, I would win,
So, baby, come on in.
Come on in,
Come on in,
Aww, come on in.
