Little girl is smart as she can be, ho,
Little girl has made a fool of me, ho,
I believed her when she said she really loved me,
The love was shining in my eyes,
So I couldn't see the lies in her eyes.
Little girl knows more than she pretends,
She knew I wanted to be more than friends,
Every time she hurt me, oh, how sorry she was,
Yesterday she went too far
And now I'm through because I'm wise to all those lies.
Friends said, "Don't worry now, she's sweet and she's kind,"
"Don't be afraid to tell her how you feel all the time,"
The little things that bothered me, I let them go by
And now it's too late to cry.
Little girl, it's time that we should part,
'Cause little girl, now you've broke my heart,

I couldn't help but hear what they had said about you,
Now I'm ashamed to tell them that I fell in love you,
They'd laugh at me, please set me free.
Friends said, "Don't worry now, she's sweet and she's kind,"
"Don't be afraid to tell her how you feel all the time,"
The little things that bothered me, I let them go by
And now it's too late to cry.
Little girl, now I'm through with you,
'Cause you've got everything you wanted to,
Despite all those things that they said you had done,
You had me believing, now, that I was the one
In your dreams instead of your schemes.
Ah, little girl, whoa-whoa,
Little girl, whoa-whoa,
Little girl, whoa-whoa.
fade out...
