I wonder just how long it would be,

Me without you, you without me.

We had a fight last night about something or other,

But it can't be too important if we love one another,

Whoa, true love always seems to take a little bit longer,

But, every time we break up, we make up a little bit stronger.

I wonder just how long it would be,

Me without you, you without me.

SOLO

Let me tell you now,

I wonder just how long it would be,

Me without you, you without me,

Me without you, and you without me,

Me without you, and you without me.
