The sky is green and it's all me, walkin' alone
Lightyear or two, from you

under the scorn of you and the stars

Sick you said, from within

The stars always held a spot in my brain
Enchanting me with their flowing spell
Like a river
Glowing
Deep in me

And do I chat with the giants
I sing to them and they sing back
After all, I'm relaxed..

What could I have to be afraid of?

The sky is red and I have company

Lightyear or two, from you

And I scorn you

And you're the one rotten within!

The stars always had a spot in my brain
Enchanting me with their flowing spell
Like a river
Glowing
Deep in me

I scream to the giants
I slash their ears with my voice
After all, I'm mad

and afraid of myself..
