On my signal, unleash hell a wall of fire, flaming hatred buring in my soul, leaving behind black blistered earth for we are the sons of metal, warriors of the underground

We are the first and last in battle, we ravage the land Again and again, tyrants and warlords brothers in battle,
bloody and cleaved, the enemy falls.

A bloody rampage, assassins we are raping the land, purging her life Like the hounds of hell, legions of death swarm on our prey, they fight till their death.

We are the first and last in battle, we ravage the land

Again and again, tyrants and warlords brothers in
battle,
bloody and cleaved, the enemy falls.

With my sword, this land we will rule all wars will be won triumph rides at our side riding hard into battle, blood sprays my skin the sons of war, raging on and on forever more.

An army of despair from lands far away we come for the kill and the love of carnage ancestors we honor with swords held high Death's silhouette on a flame ridden sky.

Triumph, rides at our side.

Strength and honor.
