[Verse 1]

I was 7 when I heard Illmatic that was the shit, Old enough to listen to it, not even gon' be comparing it,
But it was crazy, I was just a bit of a kid,
Lyrics were complex, couldn't wait to get a lil whiff,
Like the drugs they were selling on corners of Bodega,
That was the thing that 50 taught me in the days of the Sega,
But it was fucked up, kinda like tough love,
Rap taught me that I should never just give up,
Or hip hop in fact that's where the movement began,
The only man to ever give a fuck bout his whole fam,
In tough times, circumstances and shit that we all go through,
And there was only one time that I never could trust you,
Reasonable Doubt came out next that was the shit too, Changed the landscape of Hip Hop and it made
through,
Every single obstacle that you would know,
I guess it all started with that lil RD flow,
And I just wanna know, what the fuck we doing out dating,
You desperate as fuck but I think that you really mistaken,
That I would give a fuck about you and your bitch, Do what the fuck you want, I'm here grinding every single day just to be really rich.

[Chorus x4]

Looking for something, I just wanna know baby
Are you that crazy, or you just need that love maybe so,

[Verse 2]

It's a rat race, I don't race fair so I kill em, I got some anti authentic shit that'll come with the Villain,
I'm raw, so my ethics are never in place,

This pussy getting stale, I don't really fuck with the taste,
It means I'm tired of it, just need something new in it's place,
Doesn't matter what it is, Asian, Latino or Black,
Maybe if I rap it'll let me attract these girls,
It's funny as fuck but we living in a crazy world,
With some crazy ass shit that we see everyday,
Hav[ing] to pay a bitch just to really get laid,
When we can just do it for fucken free right at home,
I'm living alone who keeps calling my phone?
I'm sick of this ringing, I needa just stop it real quick,
Bitches ain't shit but hoes and tricks is the ringtone,
That remind everyday of this shit,
That I grew up with, and I'm cumming on her big tits, Qhile she act like she dont love my dick,
But she can't get away from this million dollar whip,
Power got a ladder to climb,
Understanadble if I make it over my lunchtime,
I just really wanna it all when I take it as mine.

[Chorus x4]
