[Talking:]

Here we go again... trine be your lover even though I'm just your friend

You ever have your eye on somebody.
.. that you know you can't have? Well I have, this is my story

[Verse 1:]

We was cool, I mean she was a nice young lady
A smile that warms your heart a pair of eyes that drive you crazy
I would holler at her maybe I was being lay
Or maybe I knew that I was being shady
You see I had a crush that was far past lust
Didn't holla cause I didn't wanna rush
Then I got my bubble bust
She had a bf, f-m-l
If being jealous was a crime somebody put me in jail
Mine as well, I mean do y'all know how that feel
To want somebody so bad and be forced to just chill
For real, this ain't like me
To not have what I want is real unlikely Happy with one another yeah we just might be
But we can't yeah I know so we gotta let it go
I admit I'm still hopeful real talk I ain't playing
But I can't help that thought in the back of my mind saying if

[Chorus:]

If loving you is wrong, I don't wanna be right
If you loving you is wrong, I don't wanna be right

[Verse 2:]

I see her almost everyday she got me making sure I'm fly
Just so when we cross paths I can try to catch her eye
Even when we both with her guy
Did I mention that her guy been my homie since sr high Yeah she got a man I got a girl of my own
But I can't help but think about our convos on the phone

I was giving her advice to work it out and be strong
But deep down I wanted to say to leave that dude alone
Cause, he do ya wrong I know I could love you better
But my girl's ya best friend we could never be together
They never lied saying it's a small world
I introduced you to your man you introduced me to my girl
It's crazy when we out on double dates and Apart of me wishes we all traded places
I'm losing hope real talk I ain't playing
But I can't help that thought in the back of my mind
saying if

[Chorus:]

If loving you is wrong, I don't wanna be right
If you loving you is wrong, I don't wanna be right

[Verse 3:]

Don't get me wrong that's my homie and I love em to death
And I'm a man with morals just like everybody else
And I'd never disrespect, or compromise our friendship
I stick to the code and that's bros over women
But listen, you gotta understand
I got a thing for this girl and he's one lucky man
I'm not saying I would ever cross the line
Or I don't love my girl but goddamn she fine
I got so many mixed thoughts racing through my mind
And I hope to get em clear in due time
I don't wanna be blind to the fact that I care
Cause I know to contrast and compare ain't fair
So I need to tune down my stare, to a glance
To not looking at all, yea
I'm letting go real talk I ain't playing
But I can't help that thought in the back of my mind
saying if

[Chorus:]

If loving you is wrong, I don't wanna be right
If you loving you is wrong, I don't wanna be right
