Cleaning up my room I found a picture of us
Remember we used to be just in lovers
Out of town visits, all of the kiss and hugging
Good times, I wonder if you ever thinking of them
See we went down the drain, a shame it's my fault
Was cheating long distance, when you visited, I got caught
Yeah I got caught, wasn't as smooth as I thought
You left and tried to give me back all of the things that I bought
Nah, keep those baby, for the memories
You'll be back around if it's meant to be
Until then, I hope that you remember me
And reminisce without all the negative energy
I remember you were flirt with dudes I would get mad at it
I did the same, you tried to drop me like a bad habit
Wanted me to chase you like a paper and a win
Baby girl, think again

[Chorus]

You wanted to go, you wanted to go
I wasn't begging you to stay
I wasn't begging you to stay
But it hurts me to know
That you're the one that got away, you're the one
Cause baby I loved you so, and I still do today
And it hurts me to know, oh, that you're the one that got away
Sweetheart, that you're the one that got away

Didn't mean to let you go like a balloon strength
And now you gone in your wind, you and your move swings
You and your attitude, so feisty, but I know how to handle you
That's proly why you like me
Remember all the different places that my bikes be
You used to get kinky for me when you skyped me
See you was everything I wanted and more
But the fact you wasn't here made it hard to ignore

All of these bitches smiling at me while I'm up in the club
Popping these bottles, taking pictures with me, showing me love
One thing leads to another then they back in my room
I break her off and then I kick her out the next afternoon
What was I thinking? That's right, I wasn't
And I lost you in the process of it
Shoe boxes full of pictures, love letters and cards
I wonder if you know you still in my heart

[Chorus]

You wanted to go, you wanted to go
I wasn't begging you to stay
I wasn't begging you to stay
But it hurts me to know
That you're the one that got away, you're the one
Cause baby I loved you so, and I still do today
And it hurts me to know, oh, that you're the one that got away
Sweetheart, that you're the one that got away

Man, looking back sometimes we ...just a blur
The other day my mama asked me how you were Better off without me for sure
But by my side is what a nigga do prefer
And I know, I'll prolly never get you back
But, when you get this message, hope you hit me back
Until then, what can I say, you the one that got away

[Chorus]

You wanted to go, you wanted to go
I wasn't begging you to stay
I wasn't begging you to stay
But it hurts me to know
That you're the one that got away, you're the one
Cause baby I loved you so, and I still do today
And it hurts me to know, oh, that you're the one that got away
Sweetheart, that you're the one that got away.
