So sad that you know that it's never gonna be this way
you're making the rules to suit yourself.
I know that it's you and it's always gonna be the same
there's always a place to hide the blame.

Lie, cheat, stall and hurt yourself
weather the words to stop the storm.
Proud old fools protect their place
only a fool can fall from grace.

This is mine and I'm never going to let go
everyone else can sleep alone.

So sad that it's you and it's never gonna go away
you're breaking the rules to stake your claim.
I know that it's me and it's always gonna be a shame
there's always a place to hang the frame.

Everyone else can sleep alone.
