This misery's justice?
Or merely the way our random lives unite us in meaningless sharing of pain

Believe... and isn't it easy
Who needs eyes when you've got knees
Why doubt what's done you well
Why foul what's made it so sweet

God Bless This Mess

Man made in the image... man made crippled, weak Creating the purest creator denies the invalid sheep

Believe... cuz you've never been tested
No vacuum's got room for the truth
Why doubt what's done you well
Why question what can't threaten you Swallow the opiate faith, get high and fall into place Dreaming, and bleeding your squandered pride away

Believe... it's so fucking easy
Who needs eyes when you've got knees
Why doubt what's done you well, what's kept your conscience free
