Walking on the street near at her home
A silent way all alone
She past the morgue, the graveyard
An awful smell, it looks very darth

Memento mori (* Remember you must die *)
Mors ultimum (* Death is the end *)

The earth is shaking all the coffins open
With demon power the sun is broken
They search for women more soul than brains
Arise from the death, the demons of the eternal solstice

There is no time, it's standing still
And without sun you became ill
So you can't run, they are after you
They suck your soul in a view

Eternal solstice

Killing and killing and they survive
Don't look so shocked, protect your wife
The only weapon to kill these nuts
Is burn their soul, so have the guts

Pulvis et umbra sumus (* We are but dust and shadow
*)

Ripping your mind in pieces

Destroying your faith
Praying to your lord Jesus
Winds of death suffocate

Screaming and still consuming
Dwelling round the earth
Dismembered bodies are fuming
She can't give new birth

Walking on the street near at her home
A silent way all alone

She past the morgue, the graveyard
An awful smell, it looks very darth

Memento mori (* Remember you must die *)
Mors ultimum (* Death is the end *)

The earth is shaking all the coffins open
With demon power the sun is broken
They search for women more soul than brains
Arise from the death, the demons of the eternal
solstice

There is no time, it's standing still
And without sun you became ill
So you can't run, they are after you
They suck your soul in a view

Eternal solstice
