in age of avarice, we stand divided - the gates stand festering, hope flies on its last wing - death bell sounds when the price is paid - remember when starlight danced in quiet glen - the branches shook in sullen breeze - the shadows bent to kiss the light - the howl of wolves would breach the night - the sun swept its path through the day - engraving its face in the dust - how will you forget this? - How will you forget? - the shadow's dancing in the dust - they've painted the tears in her eye - they've painted her skin and her sky - how will you forgive this? - how will you forgive? - we haunt our yesterdays
