Hold on, everything will be alright
Hold on, love is on the other side

When she's down and blue
And you don't understand her, no
You got to see it through
And try to be tender

Hold her hand, yeah
And just show her that you're a man

Hold on, everything will be alright
Hold on, love is on the other side
Oh, yeah

Whenever she needs somebody
To blow off steam to, yeah,
And just make her your world
And try to live what she's been through

Take your time (take your time)
And you will find what she wants
Is just a little more than
Someone who can ease your mind

Hold on, everything will be alright (everything will be alright)
Hold on, love is on the other side
Hey!

(Everything will be alright)

When she smiles,
She can light a thousand days
So give her all your glory
... to find a story

One day she's gonna beat it all back to you
Hold on, everything will be alright
(Everything will be alright)
Hold on, love is on the other side
Hey!

Show her that you'll love her forever
Show her that you'll need her forever 4x

Everything will be alright 2x
