Why does everything always end up feeling so goddamn cold

Once again I woke up this morning
And a warm spot still long cold gone
Then smell of you and your sweet perfume
Still lingers on, lingers on, lingers on

I wrap my arms around you
But all I get is icy cold yeah
Run my hands through
Your long blonde hair
But once again you're just not there
Just not there

You know I look but just can't find the reasons
To face another day
Cause I feel like crawling up inside girl
Just fading away, fading away, fading away

I wrap my arms around you
But all I get is icy cold yeah
Run my hands through
Your long blonde hair
But once again you're not there
Just not there

That's alright, girl
I want you to know that I'll keep on walking
I got both my feet on the ground
And check it out I'm gonna stick it to ya

Yesterday I met a girl just like you
She had the same smile and same sweet perfume
So I turned around and walked away
Me, my blade and my bottle of blues
My bottle of blues
My bottle of blues

I wrap my arms around you
But all I get is icy cold yeah

Run my hands through
Your long blonde hair
But once again you're just not there

I wrap my arms around you
But all I get is icy cold yeah
Run my hands through
Your long blonde hair
But once again you're not there
Just not there
Just not there
Just not there

That's alright, girl
I keep walking, walking
I keep walking, walking baby
Walking, walking away from you girl
Walking, walking
