I saw dreams that no one could have seen and threw away anything was not of use to me.

Unyielding thoughts reside within my heart ....

We're still in the gorge of reality and idealism.
Even if my feet get caught in the shackles of sacrifice,

My overflowing urges cannot be repressed.
My heart's yearning is too strong.

lies , fear , ostentation , grief , all kinds of negativity.

I'm not weak enough to be captured by them.
A trickster who knows no solitude.
