Repulsive actions burning impressions on the soul
Cascading wave of failure relinquish all control
The grasp of terror crushing a fleeting sense of hope
And then the same hand closes a casket for the soul

This affliction will finalize your sanity
To descension encompassing your very being Suffocation within the tomb behind
The eyes of a being aspiring to it's demise
Termination forsaken for the suffering
Which embraces every fiber of your living being
And disposing the withered remnants of a man
In a tomb constructed for a tortured mind.

Drained of all sense and reason
Your very soul devolves
Into a state of grotesque
Human deficiency
