Gazing back now at the living from behind these eternal flames as judgment day has passed with darkness I bind my affinity

Their kingdom bleeds
their kingdom falls

[#1] Suffering in vain, disintegrated destined to serve, powerless engulfed by the infernal consuming pain armageddon draws near

Sift through the ashes of your deranged crusade you weave hypocrisy into faith destiny of flames the choice I've made ashen skies have come to life culminating storm of centuries plumes of smoke have filled the light the doom of all life

Structure that guided the way cast upon irrelevance a crown of thorns that now decays lustful vows of decadence as the world in its insanity powerless to resist the end an outlet for the killing force draws upon the end of time
