[Lyrics: L. Harrison; music: Harrison / Van Erp]

The light does not shine for me illumination of my darkest fear burning cries [misspelled as "crys" in CD liner notes]
from beyond the shadows screaming whispers only I can hear

Hatred burns with flames of disgust your grinding death becomes so clear a smoke-screen of confining greed clouded vision fogs your memory

These fallen victims
now disdained
swarming evil cries
they beck you on Your faith soon dies
it's ripped in two desecration infiltrates [misprinted as "infultrates" in CD liner notes]
and has now broken through [misprinted as "though"
in CD liner notes]

The winds of sorrow bleed through the air infested with pollutants it's far too late to care
The sky is now filled with chemicals Full with toxic particles

The light does not shine for me
illumination of my darkest fear
burning cries [misspelled as "crys" in CD liner notes]

These fallen victims
now disdained
swarming evil cries
they beck you on

desecration infiltrates [misprinted as "infultrates" in CD liner notes]
and has now broken through [misprinted as "though"
in CD liner notes]
