

Monstrosity "Chemical Reaction"

Can you comprehend the strength of the enemy you have made overpowering cravings for vengeance driving me insane false assumptions of superiority has brought you to your knees as you beg for mercy you will not receive failures realization rips the smile right from your face folding in submission you are erased It shackles my soul this obsession drawing strength from opposition it boils the blood this aggression

[#1] Trapped in this web you should have left alone your feeble struggle strengthens the ensnaring grasp

Can you withstand the unleashing of rage coming your way wrath like none confronted before this boundless hate imminent is this destruction blindly await annihilation impossible to evade these victims of fate could have turned and walked away choice no longer yours to make waging war until none remain

[REPEAT 1]

They fall like flies crushed under onslaught of aggression corrosive mind lashing at your resolve in waves manifest hate endangered morality in regression no end in sight volatile force chemical reaction
