When we all die and judgment day comes there will be two places we go; Heaven or Hell and I know it's not up to me to tell who will get eternal glory and who will be left in the mud.

But what I know is while I'm here I will make my dreams come true, and to make a better place for you and me. Some people get all mad and tell me that dreams are bad,

But I'm not going to just stick my head in the sand
I'm not going to join that corporate band,
I'm going to lie here in bed dreaming.
And it's not like they can do anything, I'm unstoppable in my dreams.

No dream is too big you can do it all the time in your mind.

I am an ice cream man,
I play in my one school band,
I live in a far off land of happiness,
The beaches are covered with beautiful sand,
And life is good,
And every thing is as it should be.
In my dreams.

What's the point of waiting just dive in and go.
When we all die and judgment day comes there will be two places we go; Heaven or Hell and I know it's not up to me to tell who will get eternal glory and who will be left in the mud.

But what I know is while I'm here I will make my dreams come true.
