No I don't think I'll ever get on that train again
I'll just smile & wave at the engineer
I'll put my guitar in a gunny sack
& walk away & I won't be back
& when the whistle blows my name
I'll say "Whoo whoo! I'm on my way home again"

No I don't think I'll ever come this way again
I'll be content with the pictures in my mind
I'll remember how that lonesome road
Used to press my back like a heavy load
& when the diesel calls my name
I'll say "Whoo whoo! I'm on my way home again"

(instrumental)

Runnin' hee, I'll just sit & look out the window
Too dee, I'll just spend the day drinkin' beer
Winds, they will find me asleep at the TV
The rest of the week will be free, free

(repeat verse 1)

(repeat & fade):
"Whoo whoo! I'm on my way home again"
