We keep wishing for some little break
A day on the bright side, a bargain with faith
And be someone who's head is held high Someone lucky if just for a while

Sometimes nothing is how it appears
Still water runs deep

So tell me where you are,
when you'r closing your eyes , when you'r drifting so
Tell me where you want to be How i wish you would share what your dream is made of with me

Must be choises you felt torn between Must be places you wish you had seen, some are willing to give what it takes Some just give it to somebody else

Sometimes nothing is how it appears,
still water runs deep

when you'r closing your eyes , when you'r drifting so
Tell me where you want to be
How i wish you would share what
your dream is made of with me

When you'r drifting, when you'r so far tell me where you are x2

Sometimes nothing is how it appears, still water runs deep

So tell me where u are,
when you'r closing your eyes , when you'r drifting so
Tell me where you want to be
How i wish you would share what your dream is made of with me
