And if it's all right with you
I just talk with myself
I never was the one to leave you mad

And with the light shining down on you
You sure look tragic too
And if it's all right with you
I just talk with myself

With all the stars so bright and the light shine down
And everything moves all around
And a wonder world and a perfect time for loving
When it all gets hung it all gets tough
And everything won't be enough
It's a perfect time to all come true for loving

And if you just say when nad where
Then I will be there waiting
'Cause I would really love to see you again

With the stars so bright and the light shine down
And everything moves all around
And a wonder world and a perfect time for loving
When it all gets hung it all gets tough
And everything won't be enough
It's a perfect time to all come true for loving

With the stars so bright and the light shine down
And everything moves all around
And a wonder world and a perfect time for loving
When it all gets hung it all gets tough
And everything won't be enough
It's a perfect time to all come true for loving

I've seen you passing by
And when you caught my eye
I thought 'God this could be the next big thing'
And how I wished for your command
Telling me to hold your hand
Oh baby let it rain

Stars so bright and the light shine down

And everything moves all around
And a wonder world and a perfect time for loving tonight
When it all gets hung it all gets tough
And everything won't be enough
It's a perfect time to all come true for loving tonight

With the stars so bright and the light shine down
And everything moves all around
And a wonder world and a perfect time for loving
When it all gets hung it all gets tough
And everything won't be enough
It's a perfect time to all come true for loving
