The moon is shining brighter than it usually does
And the rain is falling harder
I'm watching this dark road..wet road
The rain deforms my hat
Standing i see this black dog,dark dog
I hear my name echoes in his brain

Sometnihg is coming to you
The creature from burning hell
His hands are perfectly clean
His eyes show innocence
You must lookout
The creature bites inside
Your soul is what he wants
You must get it out of his sight

Reunion with your wicked side
One you've been trying so long to hide
Dark as night brite like a star
Now try to figure who you are

Looking down this old man's soul
Hypnotic stare whitout control
The old brain begins to bleed
The beast's trying his thoughts to read
Flashing teeth ripping flesh
The ground is severed from your feet
See the product of his clash
New spring of pain and jaws of meat
Reunion with your wicked side
One you've been trying so long to hide
Dark as night brite like a star
