As we crawl up the stairs
Grabbing everything falling down
We rip the shades to see the light
Finding hope in broken light

Just as we see some sky
I turn my head and then I close my eyes
I know that this won't end
It's just finding out the right way to begin

We're finding hope in light
You're my dream tonight
With you I'm falling in love
For the very first time

Crawling up these stairs
Grabbing everything that's falling down
We rip the shades down
To see the sky and all its light

We're finding hope in light
You're my dreams tonight
With you I'm falling in love
For the very first time

Open up my arms
When you fall in
We're looking up at stars
We're singing along
We're talking and we're singing our way home
