it caught us by surprise it always waits until the timing is right until we're sure enough we can be safe well here's a surprise for my fate you know I'm going to give up.

We've come so far
on useless space, on useless space
Out of everyone, everywhere
At least we can say we found our own way

So you like to say surprise.
I know you always wait
Sure you find a way to buy some time
But plans always kept you away
So now you're finally here
And I was just going to go on my own I didn't even catch your name
Take a seat, make yourself at home

We've come so far
on useless space, on useless space
Out of everyone, everywhere
At least we can say we found our own way
