i just found a friend
in one of your lies
to treat me so nice
i can't believe my bones when they say so many things they tell me i am fine believe me i, i try oooh oooh oooh...

ever so sweet..
you make this seem
the way things go
its not my fault
and i'll miss i'll miss you so good through all of those nights we lost our way back home

you baked it in cakes for me
were you left behind
it hurts my teeth
bringing the past
with the postcard you sent for me
every line
it brings me right back down can't you see the wall you built for me

can't you see the wall you built for me
can't you see the wall you built for me

cause we're not special we're not special
we're not special

well i'm not special
i'm not special

ever so sweet

were you left behind
it hurts my teeth
every line
it brings me back down
