All my life, waited for something great.
Here I am with nothing showing.
And all I want,
Yes it is all I want, is us.
Lost my chance maybe a month ago.
I waited long but I got to thinking.
I waste my time because I'm always thinking I'm wrong.

And it's tough being alone when you're naive,
And you just want to believe everything everyone says.
Oh, it would be great if I could just deal with it.

Packing up almost everything.
I'm moving out and starting over.
And all I want, maybe it's all I want, is love.
If that was it then it would all be great.
But I can't walk without feeling lost.
And I don't know, I'm thinking it's all I know, is us.

And it's tough being alone when you're naive,
And you just want to believe everything everyone says.
Oh, it would be great if I could just deal...

Ohhh. Ohh. Ohh.

And it's tough being alone when you're naive,
And you just want to believe everything and everyone.
