-See the deal was, that her parents would take care of the kid,
Until they got their feet on the ground.
'Cause they both had full time jobs, weren't financially stable yet.
So they say.
But her mom would always ask, "When you going to pick up Dean?"
The baby.
And they'd say they didn't have time.
Or, you know, that they weren't ready yet.
{ {Was it hard for you to wait?} }
You know time passed quick, and he wasn't a baby anymore.
And none of them really had the heart to tell him,
That his parents were too busy for himâ€¦ didn't have time for him.
So, he never knew that his aunt and uncle, were actually his mom and dad.

-So they never picked him up?

-No, but they did however send checks every week,
To pay for all his expenses.

-Well that's good.
But I thought they couldn't afford it,
That was why they couldn't pick him up right?

-Yeah.
