-After I learned about my parents, they asked me to live with them.
And, I didn't want to, but I didn't really had no choice.
So I finished out the school year, where I was.
I lived with my grandfather,
And uh, then I moved in with them.
And you know what? It was great. I was happy.
I was happy and I knew it. I clapped my hands.

[If you're happy and you know it clap your hands song]

[-Yeah, if it was only like that.
Oh well, what can you do?
It was hard then,
And I already was really bad with people skills.
And uh, I had to start all over pretty much.
Anything that I felt secure with was gone.
But you know what?
It was probably the only time in my life,
That I was actually excited to go to school.
Not to learn, or to get made fun of, but to get out of that house,
Get away from them.
And now that I think about it, I don't think school was any easier.
