Is it my fault?
If it was planned and yes it was.
Well then because of me,
Your selfishness ruins everything.

Well if every moment always counts for something,
Then we lost this running around.

All these settings never change for better.

I sent you a place and time.
I thought you could use it,
To learn how to love your worst despite.
I sent you down with that kid,
The one that you hated.
I thought you could raise him just like you.

I can change this I swear.
Now that's just the voice of all your fear.
No that's not quite it.
I promise I'll fill his tights the best.
Well if all your mind power gives solutions like this.

And all these settings never change for better.

I sent you a place and time.
I thought you could use it,
To learn how to love your worst despite.
I sent you down with that kid,
The one that you hated.
I thought you could raise him just like you.

Then bring him back to me,
Exactly how you wanted him to be.

All these settings never made it better.

I sent you a place and time.
I thought you could use it,
To learn how to love your worst despite.
I sent you down with that kid,

The one that you hated.
I thought you could raise him just like you.
