HÃ©loÃ~se

How do the blossoms know it's spring?
Who tells the bud that it's a rose?
How does the blue finch learn to sing?
How does a girl become a woman?
How does my song inside get born?
Who tells the stars that it's the morn?
Have you ever seen a rose without a thorn?
How does a girl become a woman?

Blanche

Please, be careful. Please, be careful
It's best to look before you leap
Plese, be careful. Please, be careful
You know, I'd hate to see you weep

HÃ©loÃ~se

I'll always look before I leap
Flying higher than the swans
I don't care if I never sleep
I know how a girl becomes a woman
I know how a girl becomes a woman
When he's wonderful

Blanche

And so warm, and so fine

HÃ©loÃ~se

When he's noble and upstanding

Blanche

When he's darling, and lowstanding

HÃ©loÃ~se

Every blossom blooms as fast as it can

Both

When a boy becomes a man
