We paint thin lines of love and hate
And in tearing down this picture it creates
Is the proof we loved once, loved once,
The air that fall apart around us becomes
The memories of mistakes we made

I set fire to your old house tonight
Kiss goodbye the evidence
Strike the match and watch it change our lives
Kiss goodbye the evidence

Lying awake to my heartbeat racing
We are a sinking ship lost in the storm
Sweetheart, save me from myself
Iâ'm self destructive and fighting and struggling to hold on
My life sits dormant on the shelf covered in glass
Iâ'm afraid to be let down thatâ's why I put up
My walls cause Iâ'm terrified to fall

I set fire to your old house tonight
Kiss goodbye the evidence
Strike the match and watch it change our lives
Kiss goodbye the evidence

We held our heads up high
I press the match between the pages
Where thereâ's proof that life changes
We only ever made mistakes
But tonight fire is our element
So we can kiss goodbye the evidence
We only ever made mistakes

I set fire to your old house tonight
Kiss goodbye the evidence
Strike the match and watch it change our lives
Kiss goodbye the evidence

Fight for our lives
