So glad your worth your weight in gold
Our fathers future takes hold
Next time you see it
Cross yourself cross yourself
Next time you see it
Cross yourself cross yourself

Of late I fear we've spent too much time around here
From where you are to what you'll find we'll always fall apart

Of late I fear it's because of me you've gone clear
From where you are to what you'll find we'll always
fall apart

Sing, sing sing sing
These words will carry you over
Sing, sing sing sing
These words will carry you over

So glad we're safe for now
Your mother kept these lights on somehow
Next time you see it
Cross yourself cross yourself
next time you see it
Cross yourself cross yourself

You're worth your weight,
You're worth your weight in gold
Our fathers faith,
Our fathers faith takes hold
