Take your things I don't need them anymore. Pack your pride walk out that door. Take your promises what are they good for? Seems to me that iv been here before

Iv lived without you the person that I am the one you thought you knew well she's a fool to let you go. A bigger fool id be to let you know

Remember I said if things get bad you should run away maybe that's when I crashed in you, you fell for me wait there's a price you pay. You've seen me smile you wiped my tears you held me close it was so sincere, but it went away. You took it away

Well you've lived without me the person that you are the one you chose to be well he's a fool to let me go. A bigger fool you'd be to let me know. You can have it all

I'm a fool to let you know a bigger fool id be to let you go.
