"We Were Searching..."

take that feeling deep down in your stomach and set it to the side cause you know its unavoidable you're going to have to take it atleast for the time when all thats on your mind is the task at hand and i never thought it would last this long oh was i wrong to think that we would be alright this long it's that feeling that comes back to haunt you when you'll least expect it a time we could focus on the things more important to us in the long run oh but lets just forget it and live for today we were searching for the cure the cure for what's to come what's to come how will we see it in our heads is how we'll beat it what's to come
we won't ever find a cure
