(Rhythm combo starts up out of vision and Sgt. Duckie sings. This is all part of the Policevision Pan-European song contest, of course. Superimposed caption on screen: 'SGT DUCKIE'S SONG.' Duckie performs a showy, happy dance and jauntily twirls his whistle chain.)

Duckie:

I'm a little bit sad and lonely
Now my baby's gone away...
I'm feeling kinda blue
Don't know just what to do
I feel a little sad today.

Chorus of PCs:

He's a little bit sad and lonely
Now his baby's gone away
He's feeling kinda blue
He don't know just what to do
He's not feeling so good today.

Duckie:

Wheeeen I smile
The sun comes flooding in (dadadadadada)
But wheeeen I'm sad
It goes behind the clouds again.

Chorus:

He's a little bit sad and lonely
Now his baby's gone away
He's feeling kinda -
(they stop abruptly and say - etcetera, etcetera.)
