You know exactly what it takes to get you anywhere
It's like you never make mistakes when the camera's there
The lies, disguise, what do you see when you look with your eyes
I know that you're not what you pretend to be

And you're the reason you don't sleep at night
All the lies have brought you down tonight
You're the reason for you constant fears
The center of attention all these years

You know exactly what it takes to get you everywhere
And when you see what you've become you're really nowhere
The lies, demise, what will you do when your vanity dies
I know that you're not what you pretend to be

And you're the reason you don't sleep at night
You're the reason for you constant fears
The center of attention all these years
