"For You"

I wrote a message on your window
"Give me some space, don't ask me why"
The things I asked were very simple
But I don't know if I'm alright

And all I'd ever asked for
Was a little time alone
But now I sit beside myself
Wishing you were home

This storm reminds me of your face
The teardrops pouring from your eyes
And if I'd never said hello
I wouldn't have to say goodbye

And all I'd ever asked for
Was a little time alone
But now I sit beside myself
Wishing you were home

But what I never could believe
Is the way you let me leave
The rain is pouring down tonight
I don't know if I'll ever be alright

And all I'd ever asked for
Was a little time alone
But now I sit beside myself
Wishing you were home
