Looking all around trying to find a way
It seems my life's turned into another duck and cover
Things that should have gone haven't gone away
And if I'm not careful, I'm gonna be discovered

Taking back alleys home
Changing the locks on the doors
You know the easy way out's not an option
Gotta get away from the world on the outside

I really wish my past wasn't here today
I got what I deserved now all that should be over
But someone will remind me every day
Of all the things I've done and how my life is over

Taking back alleys home
Changing the locks on the doors
You know the easy way out's not an option
Gotta get away from the world on the outside

When the sky goes black
And the clouds are above
You can still call to me
I'll bring a shower of love

It's just that I'm still here
This feelings always been real
It's just a slap in the face
To hear the things that you feel

Taking back alleys home
Changing the locks on the doors
You know the easy way out's not an option
Gotta get away from the world on the outside
