"Running In The Rain"

It's a cellophane mind
Wakes me up early
Want something to wrap my head around
And what have I found
Too late for sorry
Balancing falling to the ground
And looking around
We're only human
See it in a flash before your eyes
Hold on hold on I'm not quite done
It's impossible to take a bullet in the brain
It's easier than running in the rain
I'm looking at slides that was
Before you drove me to the bottle once again
I'm not a good friend
Don't you know
I tried my best to make it
All we are is hollow in the end
Hold on hold on I'm not quite done
It's impossible to take a bullet in the brain
It's easier than running in the rain
