I don't know you
But I know what you did to her
She told me and
I happen to believe her too

They will be three steps behind
You will not know what's got you
Oh, so you're sorry now
All is not well, it's not ended

Hold your breath 'til it's over
There's something left underwater

You've been quiet
There are things that you do not speak of
But if you stay gone
A little longer, your keys won't work

'Cause I will be two steps behind
You will not know what's got you
Oh, so you're sorry now
All is not well, it's not ended

Hold your breath 'til it's over
Hold your breath 'til it's over

Hold your breath 'til it's over
Hold your breath 'til it's over
